In attendance: Gloria Cangelosi, Matt and Kendsie Channing, Kate Robinson
Excused: Arielle Leipham, Chelsea Beckman

Agenda Items Discussed:

Holiday Decorating Contest

Thanks, Chelsea! Two entries only; perhaps 15 voters.
Perhaps Holiday decorations are more traditional, rather than exceptional
- thus folks are not so persuaded to brag Weather is against checking out others, though some members did deliberately drive the streets to “see the lights”
Worth repeating next year Suggestion – just take some pictures of lights and put in contest, rather than rely on house owner to send in; Facebook is not available to everyone as well

Candle Lighting

Positive thoughts on Candle lighting as the beginning to a tradition; participation not studied Bags might be bigger, or not More lights per house were common for those who joined in

Neighborhood Development meeting

Last minute addition to Decorating/ Candle ½ sheet FHNA feel versus Fun events only?
Meeting was well moderated and good input

½ sheet/flyer notice

$50 effort and block captain cooperation Neighborhood chance to “meet a neighbor”; one block captain wrote a personal note to neighbors Every two months ½ sheet- fun events coming up – worth it? Or run with the FHNA Newsletter

Winter Fest

Encounter Church did not reach back to Matt- but busy with remodeling?
Living Stones excited to have an event in their backyard

Matt and Kendsie, because of the COVID risk still, would rather promote a WINTER FEST – at own house. Similar to Picnic, make the event an individual household event. On a particular day, snowy, everyone go outside say 12 -5 and make a snowman, sled on a little hill at your house, drink hot chocolate in your front yard. ½ sheet to promote based on future weather report. Snowman contest as a possibility on Facebook as well.

Future Thinking

Ariele has a YEAR LONG Activity list – are any of these workable in COVID times?

Easter Egg Hunt – in own yards?

Mother's Day = potluck for new Moms / or a list of new babes in the neighborhood 2020 Babes to build a support system for new Moms/Parents

Neighborhood Support – future HELPERS – meals, med pick up, dog walkers, child care trade
